Indigestion Loss of Strength And Appetite.

The testimony of Mr. R. Dennis, Adelaide, South Australia, who was cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, is like unto that of many thousands of others. He writes:

"It is with very much pleasure that I testify to the great benefit I received from using your wonderful blood-purifier. I was a sufferer for years from indigestion, loss of strength and appetite, and constipation. My whole system seemed to be thoroughly out of order. A friend finally told me to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I followed his advice, though feeling discouraged at the fruitless results of other treatment, and I am thankful to state that a few bottles completely cured me."

The medicine that has cured others will cure you.

FEBRUARY TERM OPENED

JUDGE CARTER PRESIDES IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

Many Motions on the First Calling of the Calendar—Probate and Other Matters.

The February term of the Circuit Court opened this morning, Judge Carter, presiding. Attorney-General Smith and his deputy, E. P. Dole, represented the government, while nearly all the members of the bar were on hand. The calling of the calendar occupied about an hour, and the following disposition of cases was made:

Republic vs. G. S. Houghtaling, liquor selling, two cases, set for tomorrow. Creighton & Correa for defendant.

Republic vs. Kaolelo, assault and battery, on appeal from District Court of Honolulu. Appeal dismissed. J. L. Kaulukou for defendant.

Republic vs. D. Koa, liquor selling, on appeal from District Court of Honolulu. Nolle pros. entered. S. K. Kane for defendant.

In the second case for the same offense against this defendant, the appeal was withdrawn.

Republic vs. W. H. Crawford, maintaining a lottery. Appeal for mitigation of sentence set for Monday, February 8, for hearing.

Republic vs. Kaanaana, assault and battery. Appeal from District Court of Honolulu. Nolle pros. entered. J. L. Kaulukou for defendant.

L. K. Puahi vs. Queen Dowager Kapiolani, assumpsit. Stayed by injunction.

Mary E. Foster vs. John Maguire, ejectment. Continued for the term.

Mary E. Foster vs. Kealiiahue et al., ejectment. Discontinued.

Pelani vs. Mrs. Kanui Paele, assumpsit. Appeal from District Court of Honolulu. Jury waived.

Paele et al vs. Sing Loy, ejectment. Discontinued.

J. F. Colburn vs. C. W. Spitz, assumpsit, two cases. Both set for trial on February 15. Thurston & Stanley for plaintiff-appellant; A. G. M. Robertson for defendant.

Republic vs. M. Schweitzer, selling goods without a license. Continued for the term by consent.

Republic vs. Tam Hoon and another, maintaining lottery scheme. Nolle pros. d. A. S. Humphreys for defendants.

Republic vs. Ah Fat, maintaining lottery. Appeal for mitigation of sentence set for hearing February 8.

Republic vs. Mizumuchi Sunizoa alias Tuna, vagrancy, appeal from District Court of Waianae. Nolle pros. entered. A. G. M. Robertson for defendant.

Republic vs. Ah Kwong, possession of opium. Appeal withdrawn.

Republic vs. Henry Crane, rescuing prisoner. Continued till next term on motion of defendant's counsel. A. G. M. Robertson.

Republic vs. Nakamai, importing opium. Nolle pros. entered.

Republic vs. M. A. Gonsalves, assault and battery. Appeal from District Court of Ewa. Nolle pros. entered against the objections of defendant.

Republic vs. Ah Wong, rape. A. G. M. Robertson withdraws as counsel for defendant, who is given 24 hours to procure other counsel.

Campbell, Marshall & Co. vs. Beattie & Harvey et al., assumpsit. Verbal notice of discontinuance given.

Camillo Pereira vs. J. M. Vivas et al., action for damages. Paul Neumann for plaintiff gives notice of discontinuance.

Fred. Harrison vs. Hawaiian Government, two actions for damages. Dismissed by consent.

H. Leonard vs. D. McLennan, action for damages. Set for trial next Monday by consent. Kinney

& Ballou for plaintiff; Thurston & Stanley for defendant.

Ookala Sugar Company vs. John Wilson, assumpsit. Continued till the August term by consent.

New cases added to the calendar were:

Republic vs. Wong Chat. Larceny. A. S. Hartwell for defendant.

Wm. Eassie vs. Waihee Sugar Company. Paul Neumann for plaintiff and Kinney & Ballou for defendants.

J. E. Gomes vs. Hawaiian Gazette Company. Paul Neumann for plaintiff and W. R. Castle for defendants.

After calling the calendar Judge Carter heard the demurrer in the case of Oahu Lumber and Building Company vs. Kee Kiu et al. and took the same under advisement.

Magoon & Edings for plaintiffs; Humphreys and Dickey for defendants.

At the afternoon session the trial of Republic of Hawaii vs. Moepono, distilling spirituous liquor, was taken up.

The Supreme Court has disallowed the claim of plaintiff, in H. Lose, assignee of M. S. Levy, vs. Theo. H. Davies & Co., Ltd., for $94.31 on account of insurance, care and advertising of the bankrupt's merchandise, to be paid out of the estate.

There was also a claim of commissions on the value of the mortgage property, and the plaintiff claimed that the items in defendant's bill of costs, as allowed by the Court, were also payable out of the estate.

In disallowing the claims of the plaintiff, the Court leaves that of commissions to the Bankruptcy Court.

L. A. Thurston, administrator of the estate of the late Dr. John Brodie, has rendered his first account, showing receipts $5286.95, payments $4095.99, balance $1190.96.

Nee Lee, bankrupt, Honolulu, has filed a petition for discharge.

To promote the independence of the Philippines is one of the objects to which the Kokumin, a leading Japanese paper, pledged itself when it published its platform on the occasion of its two thousandth issue. Germany is vigilantly watching for something to turn up in the Far East, or the South Seas, so that she may avail herself of it to obtain a base of operations in these regions. The rebellion in Manila has attracted her attention, and she is thinking of rendering assistance to the rebels. Her idea is purely selfish, but still Japan might cooperate with her. Indeed, Japan must abandon her chivalrous efforts in Korea and divert them to the South. She might combine with Germany and England in liberating the Philippines from the fetters of bondage. Thus the Kokumin argues.

The surgeons on board were unable to extract the bullet, but Mrs. Bland was removed carefully ashore and, at later accounts, was progressing satisfactorily, the bullet having been extracted successfully.

DINNER TO CAPTAIN FLEET.

Commissioner Hawes Entertained a Large Party on Saturday.

A. G. S. Hawes, the British Commissioner, entertained a large party of diplomatic officials and others at a dinner on Saturday evening, given at his residence at Palama in honor of Captain Fleet of H. M. S. Icarus. Commissioner Hawes occupied the head of the table, while the British vice consul, T. Rain Walker, sat at the foot. With Captain Fleet were Lieutenant Slater and Paymaster Silk. Lieutenant Baker and another officer of the U. S. S. Alert were also present, together with most of the members of the diplomatic and consular corps. The only civilians present were Count Kerzory, Wm. G. Irwin and Dr. Sloggett.

Children's Party.

The garden party to children given by Mrs. F. A. Schaefer on Saturday afternoon was the largest affair of the kind in years. There were 106 happy children present, besides a number of their parents and others. The afternoon was spent in games of various kinds on the lawn. At four o'clock the children were invited to an elaborate tea, the delicacies being spread on long low tables on the lawn, while numerous waiters under the supervision of the hostess attended to their wants until all were satisfied. Handsome prizes were awarded for the lucky winners in the various games, and the children all had a delightful time. The affair was in honor of Miss Elsa Schaefer. The house and spacious verandas were gaily decorated for the occasion.

Deserved Testimonial.

On the latest voyage of the P. M. S. S. City of Rio de Janeiro from San Francisco to Japan, the passengers tendered a spontaneous testimonial to Captain William Ward, the address concluding in these words: "We congratulate the Pacific Mail Steamship Company on the possession of the manly, efficient and courteous staff of officers we have found on the Rio in the person of you, our worthy Commander, and your associates." Business men and others of Honolulu, having intercourse with Captain Ward and his officers, will endorse every word here quoted.

Spanish Victory.

A Hongkong dispatch of Jan. 4 says:

The Spanish Consul here announces that the Spanish troops, which were fighting on the 1st of January at Cacarong and Bigaa, captured six trenches, and a rebel cartridge factory, besides arms, firearms, etc. There were 1100 rebels killed, and amongst them were many native soldiers who had deserted from their regiments. The Spanish losses were only 24 killed and 68 wounded.

THE PROSPECTS IN OLA

T. F. LANSING TELLS ABOUT HIS RECENT TRIP.

Several Coffee Plantations have Late-ly Taken Off Their First Crop.—The Future Outlook.

"What did you see in Olaa?" was asked of Mr. T. F. Lansing, who has lately returned from a three weeks' visit to the Grossman coffee plantation at Olaa district, Hawaii.

"Well, I visited most of the prominent plantations in the district during my stay. The weather was fine and there was very little rain, so I was able to get around a good deal. I was only kept in the house one day on account of rain. That day the gauge registered 1.30 inches, but on other days we only had a few light showers which registered more than a quarter of an inch, and that's pretty dry weather for Olaa.

"About coffee! Oh, coffee is all right and so is Olaa. Most of the pioneer planters have taken off good crops this season, that is good for the third year. While the yield has not come up to what the books say has been produced in Java, Ceylon and other places, still it has been very satisfactory, especially to those who did not look for any crop at all. At Reinhardt's place at the 15 1/2 mile post, a good crop was taken off 20 acres of 3 year-old trees, and Zimmermann, higher up the road, also did very well. At the 11 mile post Peter Lee of the Volcano House has got an excellent lot of trees and they make a splendid showing.

"I can't remember all the places I visited but nearly all the early plantings in the district have produced coffee this season, some more and some less. Of course the acreage to produce a bearing crop this year is quite limited. Next year it will be more than doubled and the year after that doubled again, while the trees that have borne the present crop should yield twice as much this year and three times as much next. From now on Olaa coffee will commence to make a stir in the market. While Mr. Horner's fifty-acre plantation at Kakaia has undoubtedly borne the largest crop this year of any plantation in the islands, still I have every reason to believe the Olaa plantations will do just as well when they are old enough.

"What is the feeling as to the future of the industry?" was next asked.

"In Olaa the general feeling is that coffee culture is no longer an experiment. It has got beyond that and the coffee produced has been marketed and sold at a remunerative figure. What better argument do you want? They want none better in Olaa, and on the strength of this year's returns the planters are laying their plans to put in an increased acreage this year. There is no doubt about the future of Olaa in the minds of any of those living there."

"What about the planters themselves?" asked the reporter.

"Well, I will say they deserve all they are getting. They are a fine lot of citizens, good hard-working men. They work like beavers and they have the appetites of horses. Why, I ate as much as a horse would myself after being out among the coffee for a few days. It is a healthy climate up there and men can do plenty of work. There is no finer set of men to be found anywhere than in Olaa. They are social, hospitable and well informed, in spite of occasional reports to the contrary. I know they treated me very well and I enjoyed my visit immensely.

"If I were to venture a prediction," concluded Mr. Lansing, "I should say that two years from now, or say the fall of 1899, the exports of coffee from Hilo will be of such magnitude as to attract world-wide attention and bring coffee buyers here from all the principal marts of the world."
